Linguistics - Distance Programs

The Department of Linguistics at Macquarie is the largest of its kind in Australia, with substantial undergraduate, postgraduate and research programs.

Linguistics at Macquarie offers 18 postgraduate programs via distance mode:

- Master of Applied Linguistics
- Master of Applied Linguistics (TESOL)
- Master of Applied Linguistics (Literacy)
- Master of Applied Linguistics (Language Program Management)
- Master of Applied Linguistics (Teaching English for Specific Purposes)
- Master of Communication Disorders
- Postgraduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics
- Postgraduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics (Literacy)
- Postgraduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics (TESOL)
- Postgraduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics (Teaching English for Specific Purposes)
- Postgraduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics (TESOL)
- Postgraduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics (Teaching English for Specific Purposes)
- Postgraduate Certificate in Linguistics Research
- Postgraduate Certificate in Managing Language Programs
- Postgraduate Certificate in Editing
- Master of Communication in Professions and Organisations
- Postgraduate Diploma in Communication in Professions and Organisations
- Postgraduate Certificate in Communication in Professions and Organisations

Program Descriptions

The programs in Applied Linguistics are intended for practitioners in a variety of professions whose work is concerned with applied language study.

The programs in Communication are designed for communication professionals who want to investigate the effectiveness and impact of communication in their own practices.

The Postgraduate Certificate in Editing is designed for those who have some experience of the editorial process, and wish to extend it as a basis for professional editing.

The Postgraduate Certificate in Managing Language Programs is designed for those who wish to take up management roles or develop management skills in language teaching programs.

Resources and Support for Distance Students

There is a high level of support for distance students. Academic staff are available by email, fax, and telephone. The Linguistics Department’s Postgraduate Office is devoted to dealing with administrative and practical needs of distance students, and students have access to a wide range of resources.

Graduating students are welcome to attend their graduation ceremony in Sydney. For students who cannot attend, degrees are conferred at the ceremony in absentia. Degrees and transcripts are sent to students by registered mail.

Useful websites

General information about Linguistics - www.ling.mq.edu.au

Information on program requirements and application information for international students - www.international.mq.edu.au/study/transnational_distance

For more information, email iso@mq.edu.au