Score Guide

The information on this page will help you calculate the entry requirements as listed on pages 32 to 43. For other qualifications, see page 45.

UAI

All scores are determined based on their equivalency to the Universities Admission Index (UAI), which is a score received by those studying the NSW Higher School Certificate. It is equivalent to other Australian Year 12 qualifications including the Tertiary Entrance Rank (TER or ENTER), the AUSMAT and the South Australian Matriculation (SAM).

INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE (IB) DIPLOMA

This is the score as reported in the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma. Incomplete diplomas will not be considered for admission. Students must obtain the minimum of 24 points to be eligible for the award of Diploma and to also achieve the minimum points for course entry eligibility.

CHINA UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE EXAM (GAO KAO)

University entrance exam. Score is calculated using the total score of the 4 subjects (the maximum score is 750).

FOUNDATION SCORES (UNSW AND USYD)

For scores reported in the University of New South Wales Foundation or University of Sydney Foundation (Taylor's College). The minimum score for English and for Mathematics is C. Incomplete Foundation will not be considered for admission.

GCE A LEVEL

Scores are calculated from the results in three Advanced Level (A2) subjects, where A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2, E=1. Up to two Advanced Subsidiary (AS) level results may be included in the aggregate and will be calculated based on A=2.5, B=2, C=1.5, D=1, E=0.5.

Comparable qualifications include the Cambridge Higher School Certificate, West African Higher School Certificate (Principal Level), West African General Certificate of Education (Advanced Level), East African Advanced Certificate of Education, Kenya Advanced Certificate of Education, Tanzanian Advanced Certificate of Secondary Education, Uganda Advanced Certificate of Education, University of Malta Advanced Matriculation examinations and ZIMSEC GCE A level 2003 and onwards.

HONG KONG A LEVEL

Scores are calculated on the basis of three Academic Advanced level subjects where A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2, E=1. Advanced Supplementary level results may be included based on A=2.5, B=2, C=1.5, D=1, E=0.5. An extra point can be added for each of the following subjects studied at Advanced level: Pure or Applied Mathematics, Biology, Physics, Chemistry.

INDIA (AISSC)

Refers to the All India Senior School Certificate (AISSC), awarded by the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE). Scores are calculated on the basis that A1=5, A2=4.5, B1=3.5, B2=3, C1=2, C2=1.5, D1=1, D2=0.5. The selection score is based on best four externally examined academic subjects. Regional languages will not be considered for this calculation.

INDIA (ISC)

Refers to the Indian School Certificate (ISC), awarded by the Indian Council of School Examinations (ICSE). The selection score is based on percentage grade average in the best four externally examined academic subjects. Regional languages will not be considered for this calculation.

OSSD/ICPU

Represents the Ontario Secondary School Diploma and the International Canadian Pre-University program. Scores are calculated from the average of six University Preparation Courses.

SINGAPORE A LEVEL

Scores are calculated from the results in three H2 level subjects, where A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2, E=1. Students must also present an H1 content-based subject, Project Work and the General Paper (or Knowledge Inquiry), and these scores are added to the total on the basis that A=2.5, B=2, C=1.5, D=1, E=0.5.

USA SAT

Scores represent the total of the Critical Reading, Mathematical and Writing test scores in the SAT Reasoning Test. Students must present a completed US High School Diploma or equivalent secondary studies in addition to their SAT scores to be considered for admission.
