Restless Development (India) have two project options are on offer this winter:

Option 1: Restless Development (India) is leading “Dance4Life” an international youth initiative that inspires, mobilises and unites young people to push back HIV and AIDS 4life! It teaches young people the important life skills they need to protect themselves but more than this, it inspires them to go out there and become actively involved – an agent of change. It is the “Dance4Life” mission to create a movement of one million agents of change by 2014. An agent of change is a young person that takes part in School4Life activities – it’s about dance, music, media, events, drumming, videos and taking responsibility for yourself and others.

PACE International participants will work in small groups in high schools in three districts of Tamil Nadu (Vellore, Kancheepurnam, Thiruvallur) and will:
- Receive 4 days orientation and training with Restless Development
- Bring fun, live, interactive learning experiences that educate, encourage and enthuse youth to take responsibility in the response to HIV/AIDS. This includes learning and teaching the ‘Dance 4 Life’ drill in high schools
- Support the ‘Skills4Life’ initiative an in-depth program where youth learn more about HIV including: prevention, sexuality, drug abuse and their rights
- Conduct Sexual & Reproductive Health and Life Skills workshops in high schools with youth using non-formal education techniques

Option 2: In addition Restless Development are offering limited individual internship opportunities during the same project period. These will focus on supporting Restless Development to broaden their outreach and build capacity of local staff.

PACE International participants selected into the Internship Program will:
- Receive 4 days orientation and training with Restless Development
- Work within the Vellore office alongside experienced local staff
- Create a database of prospective donors
- Write funding proposals and donor reports
- Develop donor relationships and attend donor meetings
- Develop data collection tools and monitor project progress in the field
- Consolidate monitoring and evaluation data for use in donor reporting

An excellent opportunity for those wanting to apply their skills within a leading and respected international youth-focused NGO!

Note: the above project information is a guide only as final projects and outputs are subject to the partner organisation’s needs.
